Course Description: Survey of the essential subject areas, major theories and approaches to the scientific study of behavior and mental processes.

Prerequisites: TSI compliance in Reading

Credit: 3 Lecture: 3 Lab: 0

Textbook: OpenStax Psychology Text or Noba Psychology

Supplies: none unless specified in the specific instructor information

This course partially satisfies a Core Curriculum Requirement:
Social and Behavioral Science Foundational Component Area (080)

Core Objectives addressed:

- Communication skills- to include effective written, oral and visual communication.
- Critical thinking skills- to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information.
- Empirical and Quantitative skills- to include the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions.
- Social Responsibility- to include the demonstrated intercultural knowledge and competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national and global communities.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)/Competencies:

1. Upon successful completion of this course, students will:
2. Identify various research methods and their characteristics used in the scientific study of psychology.
3. Describe the historical influences and early schools of thoughts that shaped the field of psychology. 4. Describe some of the prominent perspectives and approaches used in the study of psychology
5. Use terminology unique to the study of psychology.
6. Describe accepted approaches and standards in psychological assessment and evaluation.
7. Identify factors in physiological and psychological processes involved in human behavior.

Student Learning Outcomes Assessment: Dr. Alicia Barr is the faculty member who is responsible for the assessment of the student learning outcomes. She will be sending a list of which SLOs will be assessed for each semester. There are 6 outcomes and these are rotated. Dr. Barr is also the person responsible to entry of the data into Task Stream for documentation.

Course Evaluation: See the instructor's course information sheet for specific items used in evaluating student performance. However, all courses will have multiple exams and a written assignment that is designated by the instructor.

Attendance/Engagement Policy:

Students are expected to engage in class each week in order to be successful in a course. "Engagement" includes learning activities such as attending class, submitting weekly assignments, completing make-up work, etc. Due to South Plains College attendance policies, any student who fails to engage in three consecutive weeks during the semester or fails to attempt a minimum of two major grades may be asked to withdraw or "drop" from the course.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, may also be asked to drop the course. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment. See instructor's Course Information Sheet for additions to the attendance policy.

See instructor's Course Information Sheet for additions to the attendance policy.

Plagiarism and Cheating: Students are expected to do their own work on all projects, quizzes, assignments, examinations, and papers. Failure to comply with this policy will result in an F for the assignment and can result in an F for the course if circumstances warrant.

Plagiarism violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Turning in a paper that has been purchased, borrowed, or downloaded from another student, an online term paper site, or a mail order term paper mill;
2. Cutting and pasting together information from books, articles, other papers, or online sites without providing proper documentation;
3. Using direct quotations (three or more words) from a source without showing them to be direct quotations and citing them; or
4. Missing in-text citations.

Cheating violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Obtaining an examination by stealing or collusion;
2. Discovering the content of an examination before it is given;
3. Using an unauthorized source of information (notes, textbook, text messaging, internet, apps) during an examination, quiz, or homework assignment;
4. Entering an office or building to obtain unfair advantage;
5. Taking an examination for another;
6. Altering grade records;
7. Copying another's work during an examination or on a homework assignment;
8. Rewriting another student's work in Peer Editing so that the writing is no longer the original student's;
9. Taking pictures of a test, test answers, or someone else's paper.

Student Code of Conduct Policy: Any successful learning experience requires mutual respect on the part of the student and the instructor. Neither instructor nor student should be subject to others' behavior that is rude, disruptive, intimidating, aggressive, or demeaning. Student conduct that disrupts the learning process or is deemed disrespectful or threatening shall not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action and/or removal from class.

South Plains College policies concerning diversity, disabilities, non-discrimination, Title IX Pregnancy Accommodations, and Campus Concealed Carry Statements can be found here: Syllabus Statements \(southplainscollege.edu\).

SPC Bookstore Price Match Guarantee Policy:

If you find a lower price on a textbook, the South Plains College bookstore will match that price. The difference will be given to the student on a bookstore gift certificate! The gift certificate can be spent on anything in the store.

If students have already purchased textbooks and then find a better price later, the South Plains College bookstore will price match through the first week of the semester. The student must have a copy of the receipt and the book has to be in stock at the competition at the time of the price match.

The South Plains College bookstore will happily price match BN.com & books on Amazon noted as ships from and sold by Amazon.com. Online marketplaces such as Other Sellers on Amazon, Amazon's Warehouse Deals, fulfilled by Amazon, BN.com Marketplace, and peer-to-peer pricing are not eligible. They will price match the exact textbook, in the same edition and format, including all accompanying materials, like workbooks and CDs. A textbook is only eligible for price match if it is in stock on a competitor's website at time of the price match request. Additional membership discounts and offers cannot be applied to the student's refund. Price matching is only available on in-store purchases. Digital books, access codes sold via publisher sites, rentals and special orders are not eligible. Only one price match per title per customer is allowed.

Note: The instructor reserves the right to modify the course syllabus and policies, as well as notify students of any changes, at any point during the semester.

Instructor's Course Information: Dr. Diane Wittie

Course Information: PSYC 2301, Section 155 (ONLINE), General Psychology - Spring 2023

Course Website: Blackboard (southplainscollege.blackboard.com)

Email Address: dwittie@southplainscollege.edu

Blackboard: This is an ONLINE course and will be conducted completely online through Blackboard. Course assignments will be submitted through Blackboard.

Office Hours: M/W, 1-4 PM (via Zoom and Face-2-Face [F2F]) T, 11 AM – 12:00 PM
F, 10-11 AM

Instructor Office Phone: 806-716-2468 (This number calls directly to my office however it is better to contact me by email. If you do leave a voice message, make sure to state your FULL name and the name of the course/section you are in.)

Course Structure: This course is delivered 100% online modality. Students are expected to attend check Blackboard and email daily for any updates/changes/communication etc. All deadlines are listed on the Course Schedule below, as well as in Blackboard.

Instructor's Course Policies:

General Expectations/Policies for Students: I would like to welcome each of you to an environment of community, pride, courtesy, and utmost respect; we are all here to work cooperatively and to learn together. I am honored to have you in my class this semester and want to thank you in advance for the time and hard work that you will put into this learning experience.

One of the keys to being successful in college is to communicate with your instructor. Feel free to email me if I can help you be successful in this course. I wish you the very best this semester and hope that the grade you achieve will reflect the effort you put into it. Please make every attempt to keep up with all assignments. This includes keeping up with the fast pace of this course by completing all assignments, exams and papers/projects on time.

Attendance & Administrative Drop Policy: Attendance will be taken during each class meeting. Students will be responsible for material presented and discussed in class. Due to South Plains College attendance policies, any student who fails to attend 5 classes during the semester or fails to attempt a minimum of two major grades may be asked to withdraw or “drop” from the course. Essentially, to be counted present means that you need to be mentally and physically present in the classroom (or in the online environment).

Due to Financial Aid and South Plains College requirements for participation/attendance, a student who fails to turn in 5 assignments during the semester may be dropped with a grade of "X" from the course. Assignments in this context refer to the chapter assignments as well as application assignments, exams, essays, projects, and discussions.

Technology Policy: Blackboard (<http://southplainscollege.blackboard.com>) is the learning management system used to take exams and submit assignments.

It is essential that you have reliable access to the Internet, appropriate devices/software, and a working knowledge of Blackboard. You should always have a backup plan in place should you encounter computer or internet problems. There are open computer labs available to all enrolled SPC students on all campuses. It is also the student's responsibility to have the required computer skills to complete this course. Should you encounter technical difficulties contact your instructor immediately as well as SPC technical support at blackboard@southplainscollege.edu or call (806) 894-9611, ext. 2180. Be sure to include your full name, course number, section number and a number where you can be reached when contacting technical support. Not knowing how something works or having personal computer or Internet difficulties will not suffice as an excuse for missed deadlines and will not constitute extensions or do-overs.

Communication: You are expected to frequently check your SPC email and any announcements made in Blackboard Announcements. Your instructor will check SPC email each business day and will respond to communication within 1 business day.

Student Conduct: In conjunction with the policy stated in the Common Course Syllabus, one must uphold proper and respectful communication with the instructor and fellow classmates at all times. All interactions will remain civil. Repeated violations of this policy may result in the student being dropped from the course.

Written Work: All written work should be presented using the conventions of Standard Written English. South Plains College requires all students to become proficient in "academic English," a form of English that is typically used in academic, professional, and business contexts. While slang, regional idioms, and informal kinds of self-expression are appropriate in some contexts, they are out of place in academic writing. This will relate to all written work done in the course including discussions and assignments.

Late work: Late work is not accepted for full credit in this course. However, the instructor reserves the right to consider the submission of late work on a case-by-case basis. Reading quizzes and Assignments may be submitted late for a maximum of half credit. You will need approval from your instructor and may need to provide documentation. Late assignments constitute those which have been initially submitted incorrectly, in a format other than Microsoft Word, or are submitted at any time after the deadline on the date it is scheduled. After contacting the instructor, upon approval, a new due date will be given for either the original assignment or an alternative assignment of equal value. If the student fails to meet the revised due date, then a zero (0) for the assignment will be given.

Extra Credit Activities: There will be one extra credit assignment (worth 5 points) available in Blackboard.

Academic Integrity: In addition to the Plagiarism and Cheating policy in the Common Course Syllabus, it should be understood that students found guilty of cheating or plagiarism will earn a zero on the work in question for the first offense and will be dropped from the course with an 'F' should a second offense occur. Any amount of dishonesty is subject to these consequences, whether a lot or a little; this can include but is not limited to one copied sentence in an essay, a missing or incorrect citation, an entire paper copied from someone/somewhere else, one plagiarized idea or post on a discussion board, one copied exam item or an exam, other coursework completed by someone other than yourself, or dishonestly using Internet searches and sites to complete your work. You have also committed academic dishonesty when sharing course content, assignments, items, or answers. This includes sharing course content with classmates or future students as well as sharing or posting course content on websites such as Quizlet, Course Hero, or similar "study applications." The information and assignments in this course are proprietary and are not yours to share. For further information and examples please see the Catalog, Student Guide, or refer to www.plagiarism.org

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Resources: There are now websites that will generate semi-unique material that somewhat resembles original material. Since the technology is available to create this content, technology is also available to detect this content. Such content is considered to be plagiarism and will receive a grade of zero. Incidents of this nature will be reported to the Dean of Students for disciplinary action.

Grading Policy & Method of Evaluation: All grades and feedback on coursework will be posted in Blackboard. You will find these posted in the My Grades area of our Blackboard course.

It is possible to earn up to 735 points in this course. Your grade will be determined by a cumulative point total based on the following grades:

	Amount to be Completed:	Total Points Possible:	Points Earned by you this Semester:
Syllabus Quiz and Introductory Video (on Blackboard)	2 @ 5 points each	10
Activities (i.e. Discussions, Reflections, etc.)	5 @ 20 points each	100
Application Assignments	3 at 50 points each	150
Exams (non-cumulative); If a student misses an exam, they are allowed to take a cumulative final exam in place of the one they missed.) All exams are administered F2F in the classroom.	4 @ 100 points each	400
Reading Quizzes	15 @ 5 points each	75
Total	29 total	735

At the end of the session, all points earned by you this session will be added up. Your Point Total will determine your final letter grade by using the following scale/point ranges:

A= 662 – 735 points
 B= 588 – 661 points
 C= 515 – 587 points
 D= 441 – 514 points
 F= 0 – 440 points

Syllabus Quiz and Introductory Video (10 points): To familiarize yourself with the course website and to help me get to know you, please complete the Introductory Vide and Syllabus Quiz on Blackboard before midnight this Sunday (Jan. 22). You will find the Syllabus Quiz and Link for attaching your Introductory Video in the Week 1 Learning Module of Blackboard.

Application Assignments (150 points): You will complete 3 Application Assignments (50 points each) throughout the semester applying course concepts related to the field of psychology. The purpose of these assignments is for you to demonstrate your knowledge of course concepts while analyzing and applying these concepts to your own thinking processes and behaviors. Application Assignments are submitted in Blackboard. See the course schedule below for due dates.

Activities (100 points): There will be 5 Activities (discussions, reflections, etc.) throughout the semester during class time. Make sure you will be well prepared for these activities by reading the assigned course readings and viewing the supplemental material/resources to ensure your success on these activities.

Quizzes (75 points): There will be 15 quizzes (each worth 5 points) for each chapter. Each quiz will have 5 multiple-choice or true/false questions covering the content of each chapter. The quizzes are due on Sundays by midnight. See the Course Schedule for detail.

Exams (400 points): There will be 4 non-cumulative exams during the semester covering material presented in the textbook and in Blackboard. Exams will include 50 multiple-choice, true-false, and short answer/essay questions. See the course schedule on the following page for dates and times for the exams.

Special Requirements: If you miss an exam, you cannot make it up, but there will be an optional cumulative final exam available which can be used to replace the score for the exam you missed. If you miss more than two exams, you will be asked to drop the class.
